Full album radio information

Released 2 October 2026 | 12 tracks | English vocals

Future house and electronic pop

OFF SCRIPT brings LLINDA and J. Kert together across twelve English-language tracks, combining future house production with pop songwriting. The album explores identity, relationships and the choices we make when familiar expectations no longer fit.

Suggested first listen

Off Script is the suggested entry point into the album. The title track follows a speaker who leaves a prepared speech in their pocket and finally says what they mean. Release duration 3:17; original master 3:16.8.
